

Moana Movie Review

Hello my name is Mr. Prior and today I will be reviewing the movie 'Moana'. Hopefully after reading this review, you will know what to expect and you will be able to decide whether or not it is worth a watch.

The Plot

The film is about the epic adventure of an energetic, teenage girl who is keen to set sail on a daring mission to save the people on her island. On her travels, Moana meets Maui and together they cross the ocean on an action-packed voyage.

The Characters

This film is full of lovable characters that you route for. As I've previously mentioned, we follow in the footsteps of Moana and Maui, however there are other amazing characters. My particular favourite is Heihei. A goofy, wide-eyed chicken who ends up surviving on the seven seas (somehow). I also like the Kakamora tribe. A bunch of vicious coconuts who wish to possess the heart of Te-fiti.

Favourite things about the film and possible improvements

As this is a Walt Disney Animation, there are of course songs. The songs are catchy and you cannot help but sing along to them. The film has an interesting twist at the end involving an evil creature. I also like the fact that the voice of Maui is Dwayne Johnson who is an ex WWE wrestler. The only way this film could be improved is by bringing out a sequel. What are you waiting for, Disney?

Important information

The film is 1 hour and 47 minutes long so snacks and getting comfortable are essential. The film is suitable for all ages, however it can be scary in places. It's an animated film, however adults will enjoy this film just as much as children! It is an action-packed movie full of twists and turns...

Overall rating

This is a must see film. Overall, I would give this film a 9.2 out of 10 as it is beautifully animated and has a great storyline. It blows the Disney film Frozen out of the water!
