

The Truth about Trolls

Trolls lived over seven-hundred years ago during the 12th Century. Many people believe that they are angry, disgusting beasts that terrify goats and innocent people. Interestingly, this is not true. This report will tell you the truth about trolls, what they looked like, where they lived and what they ate.

What do Trolls look like?

Trolls, whose skin colour is normally a pale green, are ginormous. They look fierce and rather ugly, however to other trolls they are kind and beautiful. An adult troll normally has small, beady eyes, a bulbous, warty nose, and sharp, yellow teeth. Astonishingly, most trolls actually have long, curly horns on their heads (very similar to a goat). Although, some trolls never sprout horns at all. Nobody really knows why...

Where they live

Normally, trolls are found in freezing countries such as Iceland. They like to make their caves near burning volcanoes in order to be left alone. The volcano provides warmth and shelter. They live peacefully in isolation, hidden away from humans. One troll, who was very grumpy, lived alone under a wooden bridge. Annoyingly, this troll tormented and bullied local goats which gave all trolls a very bad name.

What do trolls eat?

Trolls adore eating all types of seafood! Amazingly, they fish in complete darkness so that they are not seen by anybody. They mostly eat their food raw. Sometimes, when the volcanoes have erupted, they cook their food on the hot rocks. In addition, trolls like to gather large mushrooms and dig up juicy roots that grow in the forest. Surprisingly, goats are not on the menu...

In summary, trolls are very misunderstood. They are quiet, resourceful creatures who do not like to be disturbed. Many people think that trolls are dangerous and disgusting, however that is simply not the case. We do not even know if trolls still exist?
